

REACH services

Chemicals Management in Europe in this decennium is almost equivalent to REACH! This regulation is the most complicated legislation in the European history. Not only chemical companies, but also companies outside the traditional chemical industry, are affected by REACH. REACH asks a major effort from the industry to achieve compliance. Companies can have different roles, different knowledge and different questions regarding REACH. Royal Haskoning matches this diversity with tailor-made services. We focus on the technical (e.g. chemistry, toxicology) details, we give strategic advise or we assist you providing total solutions.

Chemicals Management is an advisory group within Royal Haskoning. This group consists of 25 experts, including toxicologists, chemists, industrial hygienists as well as Regulatory Affairs- and Information specialists. We are trained chemicals management consultants (e.g. industrial chemicals, cosmetics, biocides, pesticides, etc.) that assist companies in the implementation and management of REACH services. Our extensive experience within various industry branches and with authorities enable us to support you on every management level in organizing REACH services in relation to other chemicals management activities within your company.
